

The Show

This Sound I Ride is an adventurous and inspiring global journey for music Lovers.

It is about diverse, extraordinary, global music that inspires the listeners imagination, like a surreal train ride through foreign countries or a trip to an exotic culture which offers an unfamiliar or unforeseeable perspective.

The curious and adventurous approach of the producer melts together different influences and musical languages and creates something exciting and unsettling at the same time. Hosted by Martin Bleicher, the two hour monthly show brings you new, fascinating and boundary-free music and sounds.

About the producer

Martin Bleicher is a music lover, DJ and concert promoter from Austria. He is known as a music nerd and passionate record collector for the best part of the last 30 years.

With „This sound I ride“, he features, supports and promotes talented and innovative artists which are not yet well known. Martin wants to share his enthusiasm for new and diverse music and cultures as well as the joy of exploring different musical styles with a wider audience.

Additionally, he creates influential handpicked mixes for people who are in search of new music.
